Rivista di psichiatria

NORME PER GLI AUTORI

La Rivista pubblica contributi originali nelle sue tre sezioni: a) rassegne; b) articoli originali; c) comunicazioni brevi.

Rassegne. Sono considerate per la pubblicazione rassegne su temi specifici purché abbiano le caratteristiche della completezza, siano centrate su argomenti di attualità e apportino un contributo nuovo ed originale alla conoscenza dell'argomento.

Articoli originali. Vengono pubblicati articoli di carattere clinico e/o sperimentale attinenti a soggetti di interesse psichiatrico. Non vengono pubblicati studi sul caso singolo o su casistiche limitate che non siano conformi ai requisiti metodologici, clinico-sperimentali e statistici accettati dalle riviste internazionali del settore. La presentazione dei dati degli articoli originali dovrà essere conforme alla metodologia di esposizione accettata nelle riviste di psichiatria a diffusione internazionale (es.: Archives of General Psychiatry, American Journal of Psychiatry, British Journal of Psychiatry e analoghi). La lunghezza consigliata è di 15 pagine dattiloscritte a spazio due, escluse figure, tabelle e bibliografie. La bibliografia dovrà essere redatta in base alle norme riportate successivamente. Tabelle e figure dovranno essere ridotte all'essenziale al fine di rendere comprensibile il testo.

Comunicazioni brevi. La Rivista pubblica anche brevi rapporti, di lunghezza non superiore a 3 pagine dattiloscritte a spazio due, relativi a studi clinici e sperimentali di particolare interesse ancora in fase di esecuzione.

Norme bibliografiche. Ad ogni voce bibliografica riportata al termine del lavoro dovrà corrispondere un riferimento numerico nel testo. Es.: «Sono state messe in evidenza, nella depressione endogena, modificazioni del ritmo circadiano del cortisolo (12,14) e mancata risposta al test di soppressione al desametasone (15,16)». Le voci bibliografiche vengono riportate alla fine dell'articolo nel loro ordine progressivo di citazione nel testo, a prescindere dall'ordine alfabetico. Per quanto riguarda gli articoli pubblicati in riviste la relativa voce bibliografica deve essere riportata nel modo seguente:

- 1) Cognome dell'Autore ed iniziale del nome senza punto. Nel caso di più Autori vanno riportati tutti i cognomi e le iniziali del nome di ciascuno.
- 2) titolo dell'articolo.
- 3) titolo della rivista, per esteso.
- 4) nell'ordine, anno di pubblicazione, numero del volume, pagina iniziale e pagina finale.

Es.: Turin A, Johnson WG: Biofeedback for migraine headaches. Archives of General Psychiatry, 1976, 33, 517-519.

Per quanto riguarda la citazione di libri, la relativa voce bibliografica deve essere così riportata:

- 1) Cognome dell'Autore ed iniziale del nome. Nel caso di più Autori, riportare cognome ed iniziale del nome di ciascuno. Se il libro è costituito dal contributo di più capitoli di autori diversi, indicare, tra parentesi (a cura di) o (ed).
- 2) titolo del libro.
- 3) casa editrice, città, anno.

Es.: Levi L (ed): Emotions-Their parameters and measurement. Raven press, New York, 1975.

Per quanto riguarda la citazione di capitoli in libri, occorre indicare nel seguente ordine:

- 1) Cognome e iniziale del nome dell'Autore o degli Autori del capitolo citato.
- 2) titolo del capitolo.
- 3) cognome e iniziale del nome dell'Autore o degli Autori che hanno curato il volume, seguiti dal termine (a cura di) o (ed) tra parentesi.
- 4) titolo del libro.
- 5) casa editrice, città, anno.

Es.: Lader M: Psychophysiological parameters and methods. In: Levi L (ed) Emotions - Their parameters and measurements. Raven press, New York, 1975.

Figure e grafici. I grafici devono essere disegnati con inchiostro di china su cartoncino bianco opaco, con tecnica professionale. Sono ammesse fotografie del grafico originale. Le figure devono essere numerate sul retro in ordine progressivo, e riportare sempre sul retro il nome dell'Autore. Ogni figura deve avere una didascalia illustrativa. Tutte le didascalie devono essere battute su un foglio a parte in ordine progressivo.

Tabelle. Le tabelle, numerate in ordine progressivo con numeri arabi dovranno essere battute ciascuna in un foglio a parte allegato al testo. Eventuali didascalie esplicative dovranno essere battute in ordine progressivo su un foglio a parte.

Riassunti. Per ogni lavoro originale l'Autore deve allegare un riassunto in italiano, di lunghezza non superiore alle 250 parole divise in 4 sezioni: scopo, metodi, risultati, discussione e relativa traduzione inglese, comprensivo anche della traduzione del titolo del lavoro e delle parole chiave in italiano e in inglese.

Manoscritti. Sono richieste due copie di ogni lavoro con relativo dischetto. La prima copia deve riportare le figure nella loro forma originale, la seconda copia può riportare le illustrazioni in fotocopia. Ogni lavoro deve riportare la firma dell'Autore, l'indirizzo completo e l'Istituto di appartenenza. La Redazione si riserva il diritto di apportare modificazioni al testo dei lavori e ai relativi riassunti, le variazioni che essa ritenga opportune ed eventualmente ridurre il numero delle illustrazioni. I lavori inviati per la pubblicazione devono essere inviati alla Redazione della rivista: Prof. Paolo Pancheri, Dipartimento di Scienze Psichiatriche e Medicina Psicologica, Università di Roma La Sapienza, Viale dell'Università 30, 00185 Roma.

Sono concesse gratuitamente 16 pagine di stampa per ogni lavoro originale e 4 pagine di stampa per ogni Comunicazione.

Per ogni pagina di tabelle saranno addebitate agli autori € 36. Le figure saranno addebitate al costo.

I manoscritti non pubblicati non si restituiscono.

Rivista di psichiatria

INSTRUCTIONS TO AUTHORS

Rivista di psichiatria publishes original contributions in any field concerned with psychiatry, including psychosomatics, psychoneuroendocrinology, psychoneuroimmunology, psychodynamics, cybernetics and informatics relating to psychological processes or diseases, psychiatric epidemiology, and genetics, biochemistry, pharmacology, nosography and treatment of psychiatric disorders, in order to contribute to the advancement of psychiatric and other related sciences. Papers published in this journal may be either reviews of major interest or original studies. The latter may be clinical or experimental and should be of sufficient sample size to guarantee appropriate statistics. Studies with poor statistics will be rejected. Single-case studies will be accepted only if the case described is of particular interest and is preceded by a thorough review of the possible mechanisms leading to the described clinical picture. Writing style should be as concise and clear as possible.

It is implicit that every submitted manuscript contains original work not elsewhere submitted or published. By submitting a manuscript, the author(s) transfer their Copyright to the Publisher. Papers and original illustrations plus one copy should be mailed to:

Prof. Paolo Pancheri
Dipartimento di Scienze Psichiatriche e Medicina Psicologica, Università di Roma, La Sapienza
Viale dell'Università 30, 00185 Roma - Italy

The manuscript should be accompanied by a letter of transmittal to the Editor. This letter should be signed by the author for correspondence and should bear the author's complete address and institution.

Rivista di psichiatria publishes reviews, original articles and short communications. Papers should be written in Italian or English. The text should be typewritten with double-spacing on one part of the paper only. Short summaries in both Italian and English, not exceeding fifteen lines each, should be provided on separate sheets (the title of the paper should also be translated); on the same sheets, key words should be given in both Italian and English. Another sheet should bear the name(s) and affiliation(s) of the author(s), as well as a footnote with the address of the author for correspondence, to whom reprint requests should be made. References should be given for every possibly controversial statement. Figures and Tables should be essential to the comprehension of the text; redundant Figures and Tables are to be avoided.

Reviews. This will accept one review per number. The paper should be divided into sections as the author considers appropriate. The suggested number of pages (excluding Tables, Figures and References) is about 25. The paper should be thoroughly referenced.

Original articles. In this section, clinical and/or experimental papers of psychiatric interest are published. Generally, paper in this section should be subdivided into the following clearly indicated sections: Introduction, Materials (or Subjects) and Methods, Results, Discussion, Conclusions, References. Each section may be further subdivided into sub-sections (for example, Aims, Statistical analysis, Psychometric tests, etc.). Suggested paper length, excluding Tables, Figures and References, is 15 pages.

Brief communications. In this section, work in progress (preliminary results or rapid communications of particular interest) as well as case-studies may be included. Suggested paper length (excluding Figures, Tables and References) is three pages.

References should be progressively cited in the text and reported under the heading References according to the following examples: Paper in a journal: Turin A, Johnson WG: Biofeedback for migraine headaches. Archives of General Psychiatry, 1976, 33, 571-519.

Chapter in an edited book: Lader M.: Psychophysiological parameters and methods. In: Levi L (ed) Emotions-Their parameters and measurement. Raven press, New York, 1975.

Book or monograph: Guidano V, Liotti G: Cognitive processes and emotional disorders. The Guilford press, New York, 1983.

Abstract in a book of abstracts: Chapman DP: Promoting condom use among college students. Abstract presented at the 144th Annual Meeting of the American Psychiatric Association, New Orleans, LA, USA, 11-16 May, 1991, New Research Program and Abstracts, Abstr. No. NR123, p. 77.

Unpublished material should be quoted with the author(s) name within the text as personal communication and should not be given a reference number. Manuscripts not yet published but accepted for publication should be cited normally and bear every available information followed by in press.

Figures and drawings. Figures should be referred to in the text progressively and given Arabic numerals. Their approximate place within the text should be indicated by

- Fig. X about here -

Original figures and drawings should be glossy prints (all photographs) or drawn in black ink on white paper with large lettering to allow for reduction (drawings). Every figure should bear figure number, authors and manuscript title, and the indication TOP at the top of the reverse side of the glossy print or drawing, marked with a pencil. For all figures, separate legends should be provided on a separate sheet.

Tables. They should be numbered in Arabic numerals and provided with a short descriptive title. Their approximate place within the text should be indicated by

- Table X about here -

Every table should be provided on a separate sheet.

PROOFS, REPRINTS AND PAGE CHARGE

One set of proofs will be sent back to the author for correction of possible errors. No alteration of substance to the text, tables or legends, or figure substitution will be allowed. Sixteen printed pages (four, for a brief communication) are published free of charge. additional pages and Figures are printed at the authors' expense. Tables are charged with € 36 per printed page. Reprint order forms will be sent to the author with the proofs.

Manuscripts not accepted for publication will not be mailed back to the author(s).
